

Scientific and Technological Cooperation Agreement between the Australian Academy of Science and the Accademia Nazionale dei Lincei

The Australian Academy of Science and the Accademia Nazionale dei Lincei, recognizing the desirability of enhancing international scholarly relations and of fostering links between individual scientists and their associations, wish to enter into an accord of friendship, whereupon they agree:

1. To exchange publications as well as information on their membership and activities;
2. To promote collaboration, where feasible, in matters of common concern;
3. To promote exchange between their members, to their mutual benefit;
4. To adhere in their mutual relations to the principles of free circulation of scientists and scholars, as embodied in the statutes of the International Council of Scientific Unions.

Each institution shall assist scholars from the other where feasible; however, financial and other arrangements for specific visits will be negotiated in each case. This agreement does not, of itself, impose any financial obligation on either institution.

This agreement will take effect after signing by both parties and will continue indefinitely until six months after either party submits formal notification of cancellation.
